Douglas McKenzie Lake Area (hiking) return to Reports list

Fri May 27, 2016

Leader: Juanita Wells

Co-Leader: Joe Lumsdon

It was definitely a wander with both the weather condition and the footing underneath regularly changing. We entered the park after driving the Murex main to the trailhead. The young lady (leader) and her harem of old boys walked to the outflow of McKenzie lake to experience our first water crossing. Trail condition was good, mostly. After some scampering through the bush and walking on trail where we could to avoid water, we checked out the two lakes and the views at the time-ever changing. Temperatures sure varied from about +4 with cool wind to about +10. A bit of sun, cloud and a "spwinkoh" of rain. Lunch was enjoyed at the Viewpoint just before the Indianhead trail which is just off the Traverse trail. It would be lovely on a clear day. We had good views of the lakes below and listened to Kermit and friends serenade us. Our return to the park entry trailhead over the slippery rocks, snow in places and water brought us back to the trucks in good time. So, we drove down to Paradise Main and enjoyed the views of the falls there. Home to Harmston by 3pm and happy to enjoy a day in the bush exploring, with like minded wanderers.
