Battleship Lake - Boxing Day 2012

Wow!, what a great turnout for our third annual Boxing Day snowshoe trek. I was impressed, and especially as I expect quite a few of you were giving up the chance to go swimming in the ocean with Sheila at the Comox Spit.

As seems the norm for this trip, the weather was overcast and it was snowing steadily, although with little accumulation. The trail from my trip out to the lake last Sunday was barely visible, so between us we had to break trail again for most of the way. The job was shared between several of us and really made for a fairly easy trip.

After taking a short lunch break at Battleship Lake we followed our outward, and well developed, trail back to the Raven Lodge. We didn't see many other snowshoers out beyond the meadows, but passed several groups as we came back towards the Lodge.

The youngest guest out with us today, Hanna P. was delightful to have on the trip and, at the age of six, performed like a real trooper.
