Trip Report

Iceberg Peak (mountaineering) return to Reports list

Fri Jul 19 to Sat Jul 20, 2013

 Leader: William Wright

 Co-Leader: Karl Stevenson

Stunning & Spectacular come to mind when recollecting yesterday's trek although it did tax the team, to a man!

Superb terrain was encountered, while in transit and we all, as old men, felt lucky to still be able to reach such heights!

The 3 of us grabbed a late afternoon supper, on the previous day and then headed into the trailhead, for a sleep, so as to get cracking towards the peak, from the rise of the sun.

We headed out before 6 AM and it was shortly after 6 PM when we returned to base camp - we were in agreement that this trip was out there at the edge of our physical limits, with the demands that it presented.

While enroute to the summit of Iceberg, Ken's party were waving to us from the Glacier- both teams reached their respective summits at the midday mark.

This trip is comparable to the Glacier in distance and elevation but not as groomed of a route and coming back down to Mirren Lake presented a couple of challenges, although they were quickly resolved.

Returning to the Comox Valley, we got Tom to his vehicle, for his return drive down Island, while Karl & I went for a celebratory feast.

Great group of mates to spend the day with, in the hills - be nice to know that I've still another one in the tank!
