Elk Falls Canyon View (hiking)

return to Reports list

Sat Mar 04, 2017

Leader: Denise Allard

Co-Leader: Otto Winnig

We started at the trail head next to the logging road bridge and followed the noisy Campbell River, famous for it's fly fishing and swimming with the salmon....turned left at the Station View trail to start our ascent, bypass the John Hart generating station, and .....turned left on the beautiful Millenium trail and arrived at the old Elk Falls' viewpoint...continued on the Old Growth Loop trail and entered a forest of giants where we had lunch ...headed down to the Riverside Loop trail, admired the falls from below and visited the "piece de resistance" - the Suspension Bridge! and headed back, but not before relaxing in the sun. After five trails, much laughter and lots of chatting, we were happy to get back to our cars, almost five hours after having left. Some of us enjoyed a warm drink before returning home. Thank you all for making this a very enjoyable hike.

To avoid any confusion I am removing my post and link to trip report on Ramblr website. Posted by Jacqueline Moore.
